11. English \(I\): Freshmen have been pre-assigned to their English (I) classes and cannot change sections.

12. English \(II\):

12.1. Starting in the Fall 2026 semester, English (II) will be transitioned to a theme-based format. Various sections will feature different themes, allowing students to select sections based on their interests, including cross-college enrollment. Students are also permitted to choose different themes for the first and second semesters. Please note that the initial course selection period is restricted to sophomores only. Retaking students, students making up credits, and newly admitted transfer students must register for courses during the adjustment (add/drop) period. If a preferred section is full, please choose an alternative.

12.2. Sophomores in English-taught departments (or programs) have been pre-assigned to their English (II) classes and cannot change sections.

12.3. For further information regarding the English (II) course selection, please see the add/drop procedure announced on the English Department website.

13. English Tutorial:

13.1. Eligibility: Only open to undergraduate students (graduation verification of academic year: 2023/112 and earlier) who have not passed the English proficiency requirement for graduation. For more details, please refer to the English Department website.

13.2. Note for Freshmen: Freshmen admitted in or after the 2024 (113) academic year are exempt from the English proficiency requirement for graduation and do not need to take English Tutorial as a substitute course.
